

From: Gary Brown

Date: 3/16/2009 1:25:25 AM

To: IPPGA

Subject: Morning GA Flight to Harryport & Polo Field

This morning, as promised, I went out for a flight in the Cessna 152 to get my weekend "fix" for airtime. My PPG motor isn't yet ready for flight; so I figured I'd do the next best thing... Fly over my favorite PPG fields: The Harryport and the Polo Field. Here's a handfull of photos from this morning's flights:

Then venerable Cessna 152...

Pre-heating the engine...

My departure runway at Dupage Airport (KDPA)...

The Dupage Tower and Flight Center...

Our families favorite Summertime park on the Fox River...

The "covered race track" near the Harryport...

The Harryport...

No one is flying ultralights here this morning...

Now over the Polo Field; nobody is fly here either...

With no sign of intelligent life (aka. Ultralight pilots) , I headed back to Dupage Airport...

Gary Brown
MOBILE: (630) 660-8231
EMAIL: gary@thebrownhouse.org
WEB: <http://www.thebrownhouse.org>